Preschool News

November 2015

It's been a festive month at the preschool.

Miss Susan's little friends have been decorating and making turkeys of all kinds.

From a hand printed turkey color book to a turkey made of beans. Miss Lizette's class continued their shape unit. They explored and learned about fall and harvest. Miss Vanessa's class completed their number book and right away started on the big unit of the alphabet.

Every week for the next 26 weeks or so, the children will focus on one letter for each week. From cooking projects to fun science activities every week will be dedicated to each letter. A week was awesome, the children made alligators and apples. B week was bunches of fun as the children had a special B box to pick from. Miss April's class had a delightful field trip to Pretend City. The children enjoyed exploring the museum and pretending to be doctors and store clerks. We are happy to announce that 10 of our Preschoolers are already reading! What an exciting time!

To celebrate the joyful and festive Thanksgiving holiday the children all contributed a little amount of their favorite snack and when it was all combined it made a wonderful Thanksgiving snack mix. Just like the Pilgrims and Native Americans celebrated the first Thanksgiving together sharing food and friendship, we did the same.

Happy Thanksgiving!
